Panel Principles

1. The Participant Involvement process advances requirements that result in reliable and timely outcomes
2. Participant Involvement requirements and processes are clear, transparent and consistent
3. The Participant Involvement process and requirements are scalable and appropriate to the potential level of impact
4. The Participant Involvement requirements needs to align with other energy development initiatives and requirements
5. Participant Involvement requirements need to be enforceable by the AER
6. Participant Involvement requirements will address Participant Involvement fatigue, capacity, and implementation burden
7. Participant Involvement requirements will be consolidated where appropriate and reflective of the entire lifecycle of discovery, development, and delivery of resources
8. There is a historic absence of Indigenous communities in the AER’s Participant Involvement process. Participant Involvement requirements will be inclusive of indigenous communities in the spirit of reconciliation and the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.
9. A framework for Participant Involvement is required in order to ensure clarity and expectations for how engagement occurs without being prescriptive and that balances all perspectives
